*^Carolina In My Mind
Small Group*

W. Scott Warfel is a composer, director, arranger, and educator whose career spans more than four decades in theatre and choral music. As a prolific composer and lyricist, he has created numerous original musicals and concert works, including The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, Tom Sawyer, and A Connecticut Yankee... which played at the Judith Anderson Theatre (NYC). His compositions have been developed and presented in New York through staged readings and workshops with professional performers, and his original works formed the foundation of over 100 productions produced through First Stage Theatre, the company he co-founded in Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

In addition to his composing career, Warfel is an accomplished musical director, pianist, and vocal coach. He has collaborated with Broadway artists in concert and workshop settings and has extensive experience directing choral and musical ensembles, often featuring original arrangements. He would like to thank the Carrollwood Cultural Center Community Chorus members for their time and dedication to the music.
